

This state's postponement lapsed yesterday

Washington

Aug 5 expired

Eight new fire declarations the same week —
none of them a new postponement.

DueDateHQ · Aug 6, 2026

 DueDateHQ | for CPA firms

A new declaration is not a new postponement

WHAT ENDED

WA-2025-03 expired on Aug 5

Washington currently carries no live IRS disaster relief.

WHAT ARRIVED AUG 3

EM-3650, a wildfire emergency declaration

Incident from Aug 1, covering Chelan, Ferry, Okanogan, Spokane, Stevens and Yakima counties plus the Colville, Spokane and Yakama reservations. Seven fire management assistance grants sit alongside it.

WHERE THAT LEAVES YOU

The IRS has issued nothing on it

A FEMA declaration and an IRS postponement are separate acts by separate agencies. Until the IRS publishes, the deadlines stand.

Why watch it rather than dismiss it

WA-2025-03 itself came out of an emergency declaration, not a major disaster declaration — so EM-3650 could produce relief. Until it does, do